Industry Partners Invitation

CURRUMBIN WILDLIFE INSTITUTE

A once-in-a-generation invitation to our industry partners

The Currumbin Wildlife Institute (CWI) will be Australia's leading centre for native wildlife conservation, veterinary science and education. Built on the grounds of Currumbin Wildlife Sanctuary, it will become an extension of Currumbin Wildlife Hospital.

The Institute isn't just about scientific breakthroughs; it's about offering real hope for a different future for threatened native species.

As a valued industry partner, we are inviting you to take one further step - to become a Foundational Supporter of the Currumbin Wildlife Institute.

"I've been working at Currumbin Wildlife Hospital for over 25 years, and the wildlife admissions go up year after year. The problems we see, particularly in endangered Koalas, are potentially preventable. Currumbin Wildlife Institute will provide us with the tools we need to save the iconic Koala and many other native Australian species".

Dr Michael Pyne OAM, Senior Veterinarian, Currumbin Wildlife Hospital

YOU ARE INVITED TO LEAVE A LASTING LEGACY

This once-in-a-generation initiative will secure a future for endangered Koalas and other threatened species.

Dr Michael Pyne OAM and the National Trust of Australia (QLD) invite you to explore how, together, we can embed your organisation into the legacy of the Currumbin Wildlife Institute by becoming one of the select group of Foundational Supporters.

Becoming a Foundational Supporter is more than a transaction. It is a public statement that your organisation is helping to create a world-class establishment. This is a statement to your community and your family that you will be leaving a lasting legacy.

EACH FOUNDATIONAL SUPPORTER WILL BE FORMALLY RECOGNISED AS A PARTNER SAVING AND PROTECTING WILDLIFE FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS.

You will be recognised as a generous contributor on the Foundational Supporters donor wall at the entrance of the Currumbin Wildlife Institute, in launch communications, and at the official opening event.

Donations, Gifts & Generous Support

Express your values through a tax-deductible philanthropic gift to the Currumbin Wildlife Institute.

Whether through a one-off donation, a multi-year pledge, dedicated naming of a room or piece of equipment, or staff matched-giving, your contribution will be recognised as part of the building and the enduring future of native wildlife.

FOUNDATIONAL SUPPORTERS PROGRAM

Support with a minimum $10,000 annual tax deductible donation.

Permanent donor wall

Your name engraved alongside other Foundational Partners at the entrance to the Institute — a legacy visible to every visitor, student and scientist for decades to come.

Naming opportunities

Spaces, theatres, wards and equipment available for dedicated naming, in alignment with your level of contribution.

Profile & storytelling

Recognition across CWI launch communications, National Trust QLD digital channels, media releases and ribbon-cutting events.

Site & supporter access

Behind-the-scenes site visits during construction, and invitations to Foundational Partner-only briefings with Dr Pyne and the research team.

Tax & values alignment

Tax-deductible giving through a registered DGR, plus a clear corporate-values story you can share with staff, clients and stakeholders.

Thank you for being an integral part of this groundbreaking work. Together, we are building a future where koalas are thriving in the wild and where we have the answers to solve the problems facing native wildlife protection.

Next Steps

We welcome a conversation with you and your leadership team — on-site, online, or over coffee — to walk through the build, the vision, and the ways your organisation and leadership team might come on board. There is no obligation, and every conversation is treated in confidence.
